IDENTITY-RECONSTRUCTION WORKSHEET

Key details to organize before calling a lawyer.

1 WHAT YOU REMEMBER

Write down as many details as you can, even if they are incomplete.

- [ ] Date, time, and location of the collision
- [ ] Vehicle details (color, type, markings, or partial plate)
- [ ] Driver's appearance or statements
- [ ] Route and drop-off location
- [ ] Your injuries and first medical treatment
- [ ] Any reports you made (police, insurance, or other agency)

2 RECORDS YOU MAY ALREADY HAVE

Gather any documents or evidence that you already control.

- [ ] Photos or videos
- [ ] Calls, texts, or location history
- [ ] Receipts, appointments, or other records
- [ ] Medical records
- [ ] Witness names and contact details (if you have them)
- [ ] Police or insurance report numbers

3 QUESTIONS FOR YOUR LAWYER

Bring your notes and ask:

- [ ] Can the details I remember help identify the driver?
- [ ] Are there camera recordings worth investigating?
- [ ] How can vehicle or government records be obtained legally?
- [ ] Does accepting the ride home affect my claim?
- [ ] Do I need to make any additional reports?
- [ ] What deadlines should I be aware of?

IMPORTANT REMINDERS

- Do not confront a suspected driver or post their information online.
- Do not use paid people-search services.
- An attorney can investigate using lawful methods.
- You do not need to complete every item before contacting a lawyer.
